

WMSGGA & SMWGA Progress Letter about Merger

Dear Maine Women Golfers,

We can't believe it's almost time to start signing up for our Tuesday tournaments. Whether you are a member of WMSGGA or SMWGA, please remember that you'll need to pay your dues before you can sign up to play. Tournaments start soon!

It may seem that no progress toward the transition/merger of our two organizations and MSGA has been made since October. However, some legal issues concerning our non-profit status needed to be resolved first. These issues impact all three organizations, and it was imperative they be addressed to ensure that, going forward, we build a strong charitable organization. We understand that legal issues will be finalized very soon, so stay tuned.

What we do know is that – from the outset – women from both our organizations will be active on the MSGA Board. In addition, a mixed-gender women's committee, made up of board members, non-board members, and possibly members of the MSGA staff, will be created. That said, we are looking for women interested in serving on the MSGA Board and/or the women's committee. If you have an interest, please contact either of us. As the women's committee and its subcommittees work out the details and processes of the merger, we will keep our memberships informed by sending emails and posting to our websites.

This season? Things remain the same. You will sign up and play tournaments just as you have in the past. Be assured that we are keeping the best interest of our women golfers in mind while going through this challenging process.

Stay tuned.

Play Golf!
